

YASWA - New possibility to leave feedback about the system

The 'Leave feedback' button in the right corner (encircled in red box) can be used for any kind of comments about YASWA. This includes

- Error reporting
- Feature requests
- Positive/negative comments about the current system

When the feedback has been sent, the system developer will be able to see a log with information about what the user has been using the system for. For instance if the user reports that a certain feature is not working as expected, the log will help the system developer reproduce the situation/problem.

Remark: If an error occurred and the user has seen an error message (e.g. "Problems on server. Administrator has been notified") the system developer will automatically receive an email about the error, but the user is welcome to send additional comments about the error if he wishes.
