Report of scientific progress

During 2017 we dedicated time to successfully apply for ethical approval to conduct this multicenter study in the Nordic countries.

The Scandiatransplant research grant has been allocated to a defined project research account at Karolinska University Hospital in January 2018. Since then we have elaborated further on the study design. We have also included specialists on infectious diseases and from virus lab in our research group.

The start of the actual study is planned for late 2018. We are sorry for this delay, but the grant money has not been used yet. Since we plan for a 2-year-period for data retrieval and analysis we would kindly like to ask Scandiatransplant to postpone the deadline for the use of this grant until the end of 2020.
